

ADG RECOMMENDED RATES CARD FOR TV DRAMA

The rates below are the ADG recommended minimum rates for TV drama. Directors or their agents must still negotiate individual fees with producers. Please note that these rates are minimums only and should not discourage the negotiation of personal margins. We encourage members to contact the ADG if their specific situation is not covered by the rates card or if any aspect requires clarification.

Please note:

- The base rates quoted are EXCLUSIVE of Holiday Pay, and Superannuation. These fringes must be calculated in addition to the base rates. The composite rates inclusive of fringes are calculated in bold.
- Without exception Holiday Pay, and Superannuation must be included in the directors fee REGARDLESS of whether a director is contracted as P, or through a private company.
- Rates quoted are EXCLUSIVE of GST. Where appropriate GST should be added to the directors fee.
- Program/block rates are calculated according to the number of pre/production/post production weeks in a standard schedule. Producers opting for percentage of the budget figure must pay the weekly rate for any additional weeks.
- These rates should be used in conjunction with the ADG Code of Practice for Directors (TV drama – mini series and telemovies)
- Additional allowances must be negotiated where a director is expected to multi-skill; ie: script edit, operate cameras or audio equipment, edit.
- Additional allowances must be paid where a director is expected to train a new or trainee director.
- ADG opposes half day and hourly rates
- ADG does not support the differentiation of Childrens and Adult tv drama rates
- ADG does not support interstate directors working under 'local' conditions.
